

TO STOCK GRAND CANYON RESERVE WITH BUFFALO

Twenty-Nine Head Will Be Placed in That Section.

"BUFFALO JONES" TO PREVENT EXTINCTION OF THE BISON

The great American bison, who once roamed the plains of the west and south-west in countless numbers, but who has now been reduced to a few captive herds, bids fair to come into his own again. Pawnee Bill has a flourishing buffalo farm in Dakota with which he promises to again stock the western ranges in the course of time. It is now announced that Buffalo Jones, another famous westerner, who is striving to prevent the extinction of the bison, has planned to stock the Grand Canyon forest reserve in Arizona with a number of the animals from his herds. The Grand Canyon reserve has been selected because of its grazing advantages, secluded position and comparative freedom from depredations by irresponsible hunters. The climatic and topographical conditions in this part of Arizona are favorable for the raising of buffalo and it is expected that the experiment will prove a success. A dispatch from Los Angeles is to the effect that twenty-nine of the big animals are now on their way to the Grand Canyon, reserve.

It is probable that these buffalo will not be placed where they will be easily accessible to sightseers, at the Grand Canyon, for the reason that good results cannot be obtained if they are constantly under the eye of the curious.

Fully twenty years ago, out in western Kansas, Buffalo Jones began the work of gathering into one common herd the remaining specimens of the buffalo to be found on the western plains near Dodge City. There he established a buffalo domain, and there first began his experiments in the cross-breeding of the bison with domestic cattle.

It was there that the animal known as the cattalo, the cross breed, was proven to be a hardy animal, well fitted for the semi-arid and stock-grazing countries of the western states.

INSURANCE COMPANIES FALL INTO LINE

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER PEREA SAYS NEW OFFICE WILL HELP TREASURY.

Hon. Pedro Perea, insurance commissioner, was in Albuquerque yesterday, an interested spectator at the second day of the court house comedy. Mr. Perea will be here for several days on private business. He was appointed to the office he now holds by Governor Otero during the legislature last winter, the office having been created when a year ago. Mr. Perea says that the insurance companies operating in New Mexico are coming into line rapidly and that the office will be one of the most satisfactory in the territory. He believes that a large surplus from fees and taxes will be turned into the territorial treasury at the end of the first year, over and above the expenses of the office.

DRAYLINGTON FOUND NOT GUILTY OF LARCENY

JURY FINDS HE DIDN'T TOUCH PERSON OF PEDRO CONTRERAS LAST SPRING.

After a hearing which occupied Judge Abbott and a jury the greater part of yesterday, the jury yesterday afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty for E. L. Draylington, a negro charged with picking the pockets of one Pedro Contreras. The prosecution sought to show that Contreras had wandered into North Third street last May during a visit in Albuquerque and that while in that famous resort known as Delmonico's, had been touched for his roll. The countryman was not very sure who did it, and the jury found the evidence against Draylington insufficient. W. C. Heacock appeared for Draylington. The case was the only criminal business before the court during yesterday's session.

Some Sensible Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

Good. The Roswell fair management this year will at least not be chargeable with extravagance.—Roswell Record.

Grown—Like Topsy. The Albuquerque fair deficit is reported still growing—and a committee has been appointed to find the rationale.—Roswell Record.

In Phoenix it is now proposed to raise the fire chief's salary to a hundred dollars a month, elect him for two years and make him devote his time solely to the affairs of that department.

Rather a Jolt. With one of the Hubbells in jail and the other under indictment, it would seem that the rule of the Hubbells in Bernalillo county is being severely jolted.—Carlsbad Argus.

To Twist the Tiger's Tail. Sagacious politicians predict that the low license will be the issue in the next city election of Roswell, and that a strong effort will be made to absolutely prohibit gambling.—Roswell.

Coincidence. At two widely separated points last Sunday two widely separated mice ran up the trousers legs of two widely separated preachers while in the pulpit. This may in a measure deter women from entering the ministry.—Carlsbad Argus.

They All Liked.

An Arizona editor printed the following: "The fellow who is courting a certain married woman would better leave town as the husband is onto him." The paper had been out long before every man in town had left except three old crones and a man who did not read the paper.

Teeth to Burn. Among the recent arrivals in Phoenix was probably the oldest woman in Arizona, who is universally known as Aunt Rosie. She is over 100 years old and has her third set of teeth, an occurrence not unknown, but rare in the human family.—Phoenix Gazette.

Killed at Copper Queen.

John Quaid and Edward Anderson were killed at the Copper Queen smelter when a tram car laden with heavy casting on which they were riding, left the track and turned over. The casting fell on Quaid lengthwise, crushing his skull and breastingbone and killing him instantly. Anderson was also struck by the casting, and died at the Calumet and Arizona hospital.

Mark Twain in Phoenix.

Mark Twain, a local character who gets his nickname on account of his great resemblance to the genial humorist, has just returned from Yuma, where he has been spending the summer. Good times must be near at hand, for it is a common remark that his entrance into a town precedes a period of prosperity. Mark can't survive in an unprosperous community.—Phoenix Republican.

Fate of a Sleep-Walker.

George Ryan, for several weeks past an inmate of the Ford bar, Saturday morning passed through an experience which will for all time come to be strongly marked on his memory, says a Phoenix paper. He has for several weeks past been sleeping out of doors on a porch extending from the second story of the residence. About two o'clock in the morning, after all the family had been asleep for several hours, he arose in his sleep and walked off the porch falling a distance of some twenty feet. That he was not killed is a miracle, for the ground was especially hard where he fell. As it is he is nursing three ribs and the physician who was called has not as yet decided whether they are fractured.

'Sense' Us.

If the Albuquerque Journal's second addler had only been patient enough to read it through, he would not have credited the Record with that poem on wheels, furnished cars, gentle breezes, panting hours, fleeting time, etc. Verses having lots of quad lines often help to fill the paper when copy is shy—but it is bad enough without having to shoulder the blame of writing the stuff.—Roswell Record.

Suppals Are Starving.

The Supai Indian village in Cataract canyon is experiencing a famine that was brought about by the recent floods destroying the corn crop of the tribe. Besides the crop much of the land was washed away. An appeal has been made to the government and to the different religious organizations who have missionaries in that district. The Supai tribe is decreasing and misfortunes of the kind referred to materially hastens their ultimate extinction.

Came From Old Ireland.

Mike Irish, a well known Pima county man, was married to Miss Margaret Walsh in Tucson a few days ago. The marriage was tinged with a pleasant romance. Years ago the groom came from Tipperary county, Ireland, to make his fortune and succeeded, for he was one of the discoverers of the Twin Butte mine and is now one of the big stockholders in it. The bride, accompanied by a brother, arrived in Tucson from Tipperary county, a week or so ago, and the wedding quickly followed. They will reside in Tucson.

The Farmington Hustler is convinced that the Southern Pacific is about to begin the construction of a through line from Denver to the Gulf of California which will cut right through Farmington. The more the merrier. Farmington has one railroad now, and ought to draw another from all the surveys which have been made into the town within the past year.

Rev. Father A. Redon of Morin, New Mexico, is at Magdalena, attending to the business of settling the estate of his brother, who died in that town two weeks ago. The late Mr. Redon left property and money to the amount of about $10,000. Father Redon is not now an active priest, having been retired on account of his advanced age. As the wife of his late brother died a couple of months ago and there are no children, the reverend gentleman is heir to the estate, which will enable him to spend the few remaining years of his life in comparative luxury.—Nogales Oasis.

WAS BALD SIX YEARS.

Three Months of the New Scientific Treatment Restored His Hair.

Baldness is caused by dandruff, which is caused by a germ. Kill the germ and it is almost certain that hair will grow again. If the follicle has not been totally destroyed, Nela Peterson of Lime Spur, Mont., says: "I had been bald six years, and had tried all kinds of cures, but without any benefit whatever, until I tried Herpicide, and in three months a fine growth of hair covered my head completely." Ask your druggist for Herpicide. Everybody can have luxuriant, glossy hair, if Herpicide is used thoroughly. Take no substitute. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. B. H. Briggs & Co., special agents.
